

There's a lot of food in summer and in autumn.
It's winter now and there's no food for Harry.
Harry the mouse is cold and hungry.

'I'm cold and hungry. I want a new home,' says
Harry.

It's Christmas Eve. It's snowy. Harry the mouse lives on a farm in England. He lives at the bottom of a wood pile.

The farmer has a big ginger cat. The cat's very clever. It eats mice. Harry doesn't like the cat.

Can you help Harry escape from the wood pile?
